Terms and Conditions

Lone Star Lighting makes every effort to have items represented in this bid and submittal as accurate as possible to match the customer's requirements. But our understanding of what is required is based on the information provided to us by the customer. Often there is conflicting or incomplete information provided to us by the customer within the bid documents.

The purpose of us providing this detailed bill of material and these submittal documents is for the customer to review and correct any discrepancies or errors in our interpretation of the material required. Our bid is based on this bill of material and these submittal documents. Items not listed are not included in our quotation.

All items listed are subject to the customer's approval and require that he review all items for correctness. Again this is the purpose of us providing this detailed bill of material and submittal documents.

Items that require the customers review are listed, but not limited to, the following areas of responsibility:

- 1.) Voltage on all fixtures
- 2.) Special ballast requirements, dual level switching, THD ratings, specific ballast brands or specification requirements.
- 3.) Colors of all fixtures, whether selected or not.
- 4.) Size of fixtures to meet space requirements of job and application.
- 5.) Number of fixtures required.
- 6.) Mounting or space requirements specific to ceiling or other job conditions. (Often this applies to flange vs. grid ceiling applications)
- 7.) Pendant/cable length and configuration requirements on all suspended fixtures. Also on Hi-bay/Low-bay type fixtures, any power hook or special mounting accessories that may be required. Refer to the bill of material for reference; if it is not listed it is not included in our quote.
- 8.) Row configuration and layout information on all linear fluorescent products. Often we only have a total footage provided to us to bid the project and this job specific information must be furnished to us.
